

ZERO

ZERO MEANS EVERYTHING.

Hunter, age 11 (left) and Mathew, age 12 (right) are looking for a family that will understand their need to bring their dog Toby with them. The brothers want to join a family that is active and likes to participate in outdoor activities. Hunter and Mathew also seek a Christian family with strong values that can offer support and continued contact with their grandmother and brothers.

Hunter enjoys sports, especially football and baseball. Mathew is happiest when playing “Minecraft” on his computer or reading a book. If they could be any animal in the world, Mathew says, “I’d be an eagle because they have the ability to fly,” while Hunter creatively opts to be “a spider because then I can spin webs and eat a lot and catch flies.”
